'Now for Something Completely Different'; Nassau Inn Plans Re-opening for Tap Room

The Tap Room at the Nassau Inn, which has been closed all summer for remodeling, will officially re-open Monday, September 8.

Unlike the quiet, low-key openings for the Inn's Palmer's Restaurant and Lobby Bar, the Tap Room will be treated to ten days of non-stop glitz beginning when Yankee Doodle's pony eats through a "ribbon" at the entrance to the tavern at noon.

Earlier that day, Yankee Doodle, accompanied by several "wenches," will walk around Palmer Square distributing proclamations describing the activities.

And on opening night, beginning at 5:30, "Bodies by Bedwell," described in the Nassau Inn's press release as "sexy male dancers," will perform exotic routines. All female guests will receive roses.

Mayor Barbara Sigmund, who will preside at the noon ceremonies along with Collins Development Executive Vice President Gary Green, an executive of the parent Omni Hotels chain, and Karen Jezierny, director of community and state affairs for Princeton University, said she was glad her involvement ended at noon. "I won't dance, don't ask me," she quipped.

The following night — Day Number Two of the festivities — is called "Nuts and Bolts Night." To quote the press release, "Each person can select a nut or bolt at the door and try to find their match in the crowd. Perfect matches

Township Committee Approves Changes Designed to Limit Commercial Buildings

Just days before a major new Bunn Drive development was to come before the Planning Board for approval, Township committee reduced the amount of office space allowed to be built in that area.

The Township Committee members present at the Monday night meeting voted unanimously to approve a zoning modification in the zones designated OR-1 and OR-2. The change reduces the floor-area-ratio (FAR) in the OR-1 zone from 12 to 8 percent and in the OR-2 zone from 18 to 10 percent. The change also shifts the less dense OR-1 zone slightly south, towards Harrison Street, aligning it more closely to the environmentally sensitive Princeton Ridge.

FAR is the ratio of the square footage of a building to the land on which it is built. The change will reduce the amount of office space permitted in the area by about 600,000 square feet, allowing for a maximum of over 1 million square feet. Presently the zones have 473,000 square feet of office space.

The vote on the zoning changes was timed to block a 129,000-square-foot office complex proposal that is on the Planning Board agenda for Thursday night. The need to reduce the FAR was indicated in a traffic study by Garman Associates and was recommended by the Regional Planning Board.

The third and final public hearing on the change in the zoning ordinance drew an audience of about 40 people. Nine people spoke out on the issue.

Mt. Lucas resident Scott Neilson presented a petition urging the Township to make the zoning changes. It was signed by 362 residents who live in and around the OR zones.

"Compassion, understanding, cut-off at the knees," said Judith Robinson of Mount Lucas Road, referring to testimony made by developers and their attorneys at previous hearings. "I don't associate those words with making money."

Speaking out against the financial concerns of the developers and urging adoption of the changes, she continued "When I hear 'how much can be made' and 'how much I deserve to make,' I really quake. I don't think the town has any obligation to guarantee or make up to any investor."

Poor Farm Road resident James T. Sherwin praised the Township Committee for "striking the balance between quality of life and economic interest."

In a final effort to protest the ordinance, Chatham physician

William Lowe, developer of the Bunn Drive office complex that is on the Thursday Planning Board agenda, compared Princeton's FARs to the higher ratios in several neighboring communities.

His attorney, Andre Gruber, made the point that the Township would "lose the rateables and still suffer the consequences of development in surrounding towns."

Gerald Skey, attorney for the Ricciardis, developers of another proposed Bunn Drive office, claimed that his client had been "led down the gar-

17-Year-Old Is Killed In Saturday Accident After Car Hits Pole

A 17-year-old Montgomery Township teenager was killed and two passengers injured when their station wagon hit a utility pole on Route 518 Saturday morning and overturned.

The victim, Julius Sesztak Jr. of Beden's Brook Road, a passenger in the front seat, was pronounced dead from multiple trauma injuries about 7:45 a.m. at the Princeton Medical Center. A 1976 graduate of Miss Mason's School in Princeton, Mr. Sesztak was planning to enter Boston's Northeastern University this fall after having graduated this spring from Valley Forge Military Academy.

Admitted to the Medical Center for treatment of multiple injuries were Jeffrey Poje, 21, of Pine View Court, and Roger Landry, 18, of Sycamore Lane, both residents of Skillman. Mr. Landry underwent an operation later for an injury to his jaw and Mr. Poje sustained a concussion.

Mr. Poje was in the rear seat when the accident occurred. None of the occupants, police said, was wearing a seat belt.

den path" and had not been sufficiently warned about the new zoning.

This prompted responses from Planning Board attorney Gerald J. Muller and Township Planner Duggan Kimball, who outlined a six year history of the changes to the 1968 ordinance.

Before taking the final vote, Mayor Firestone cited the need to pass the changes before the Thursday night planning board meeting. "It must be in place to protect our town for the future. The time for that is tonight."

In a final statement before approving the zoning changes, Committeeman William Cherry noted his concern for not only traffic problems but "the ecological and hydrological problems of the Ridge." Commenting that zoning is not static, he said, "As we act this evening, we will act again, and differently from time to time."

TWIN Award Will Go To Princeton's Rose Nini

Rose C. Nini, 75 Littlebrook Road, dean of continuing education at Mercer County Community College, has been selected as one of this year's women to receive the Tribute to Women and Industry and Government (TWIN) Award. The award is given by the Trenton YWCA to area women who have made outstanding contributions to industry and government.

TWIN is a national program established in 1975 to honor women who have reached a high level of achievement in their careers. Recognition is also given to the employers who provide opportunities for the advancement of these women. This year, 24 women are being honored.

Dean Nini is responsible for the college's continuing education and community services program. These include the center for training and development; the career training institute; extension programs; small business development center; high school equivalency and adult basic education programs, and the office of community education.

She has received several awards, including the "Distinguished Service" national award from the U.S. Small Business Administration and the "Special Services" award from State Business Administration.

Dean Nini graduated with highest honors from Mercer County Community College, earned a B.A. magna cum laude, from Princeton University and received an M.A. from Central Michigan University.

Accident

The accident occurred around 6:30 when the 1981 Chrysler wagon in which the three were riding went out of control, left the roadway and snapped a pole. It continued to skid for another 140 feet along the shoulder of the road before overturning and coming to rest.

Partially ejected from the car, Mr. Landry, the driver, was pinned between the door and the ground for at least an hour. He was freed when firemen used a power winch to lift the car, allowing him to breathe and enabling rescue workers to use the "jaws of life" machine to cut open the car.

A small fire that started when the pole was snapped was extinguished by firemen from the Montgomery Fire Co. Rescue personnel from Montgomery, Hopewell and Princeton responded to the accident scene.

Lt. Lawrence Embrey said this week that a report of the accident investigation conducted by Ptl. Robert Palmer has been sent to the Mercer County Prosecutor's office.

Limited Size of Proposed Historic District Disappoints Many Jugtown Area Residents

About 30 Jugtown residents arrived in Borough Hall last Tuesday evening for a special meeting called to discuss the nomination of Jugtown to the State and National Historic Registers.

The proposed Jugtown historic district, they were told, would contain only 23 houses and would, for the most part, include only Nassau Street from Harrison Street to Princeton Avenue. The four Nassau-Harrison corner houses would be part of the district, as would Evelyn Place.

According to Bob Craig, author of the Jugtown nomination, this is the core of Jugtown around 1900 before it became visually drawn into Princeton. After 1900, residential development swept over the area, he said, absorbing historic buildings.

The proposed district contains seven homes that date in part or entirely from the 18th century, six from the first half of the 19th century, and eight that date from the second half of the 19th century.

Many Homes Left Out. There appeared to be no more than six people in the room identified with any of the properties to be included in the proposed district. Exclamations of surprise and dismay ran through the group after it became clear to residents of traditional Jugtown that their homes had been left out.

After explaining how people may object, if they wished, to the designation of Jugtown in the State and National Historic Registers, Sue Pringle of the New Jersey Heritage Office told the audience that a listing in the Register currently allows a 25 percent tax credit for the improvement of income-producing property.

She also said that historic designation adds another layer of review process if any state or federal monies are to be expended.

"If a public agency threatens the property," she explained, "the agency would have to come to the New Jersey Heritage Office and work out a way to save it."

This remark prompted May- or Barbara Sigmund, whose Evelyn Place home is included in the proposed district, to stand and speak. "For all practical purposes," she declared, "Harrison Street will never be widened because there will always be a bottleneck at the site of the district."

"We've succeeded in reducing the new bridge from four to two lanes," she added. "If this acts as a funnel, the state will have no reason to widen Harrison Street."

Mark Johnson, 70 Patton Avenue, was at the meeting with his grandmother and several Jugtown neighbors. His family has a long history in Jugtown. In the 1800's, his great-grandfather, Alva C. Cray, lived in a row house on Nassau Street just east of Harrison.

But Patton Avenue has not been included in "historic Jugtown," and this makes him unhappy. "The district is definitely too small," he says. "It's unfair to the rest of Jugtown."

He predicted that property values will rise in the part of Jugtown included in the proposed district, and noted that those in the district who have income producing properties will get a considerable tax break.

Mr. Johnson said he felt people were upset after the meeting because their homes would not be included in the Register listing. "They had the feeling that here were newcomers coming into town and telling them they're not in Jugtown. The neighbors and myself felt these people hadn't done their homework, had not bothered to talk to any of the residents."

A New Jersey State Review Board hearing has been scheduled for September 25. If the Board approves, a 23-house Jugtown will be placed on the State Register and the designation will be forwarded to the National Register for inclusion.

Sewer Plan May Meet Requirements of EPA

Preliminary infiltration inflow (I&I) data indicates that the current $12 million sewer repair project may meet Federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) standards.

In a letter referred to by Township Mayor Gail Firestone at the Township Committee meeting on Monday, the Joint Sewer Operating Committee's (SOC) engineering consultants have indicated that they may have found a solution to the sewer's planned overflow problem.

The sewer repair scheme was rejected by the EPA because of two planned overflow points which were built into the system. As a solution to the problem, the N.J. Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) suggested that larger pipes be used, adding more than $1 million to the cost of the project.

New data from the engineering consultant, Clinton, Bogert

WW-P Needs New School

As one new housing development after another is announced for West Windsor, school officials there are having to act quickly to keep pace with the rising enrollment.

A $10.9 million middle school on Grover's Mill Road in Plainsboro isn't set to open its doors for another year, but already a citizens committee report on school facilities has concluded that a new elementary school is needed.

Negotiations are currently under way to purchase an unspecified site in Plainsboro, according to West Windsor-Plainsboro Superintendent Richard Willever. The new building, with a proposed opening date of September, 1989, would house fifth and sixth grades.

A increase of 1,300 pupils is projected for the next four years, with total enrollment expected to hit almost 4,400 students by 1990. Voters will be asked to approve the new construction in a referendum this December.

Meanwhile, school officials in Lawrence Township plan to conduct a door-to-door census of the township this fall to help them project future enrollments. Superintendent Barry Gleim said the data collected will help determine the number of teachers and classrooms over the next five years.

Lawrence's school enrollment increased by 165 pupils last fall, and another 100 are expected to enter the system this September. Ground will be broken for an addition to the Lawrenceville Elementary School within the next few weeks.

Associates, indicates that more I&I could be removed from the collection system than originally estimated. Less I&I would increase the capacity of the pipes, eliminating the need for planned overflow or larger pipes.

In the proposed sewer plan, $4 million dollars is budgeted to remove 30 percent of the system's I&I. Preliminary data, from a more finite study by the consulting firm, indicates that a higher percentage, closer to 40 or 50 percent, could be eliminated.

The I&I will be removed by a program of repairs to existing lines: chemical grouting, fixing manhole covers, removing downspouts from the system, and other measures.

According to Martin T. Dorward, SOC manager, a final report on the I&I study due from Clinton, Bogert may confirm the solution to the sewer repair program's problems.

Sewers Again. In another step in the proposed Sewer Master Plan, the Township committee approved the hiring of engineering services for the North Ridge Sanitary Sewer Project.

This will further the process of redirecting the northern portion of the Township's sewer flow from a Montgomery sewage treatment facility to the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Plant. The plan includes a pump station which would pump the sewage over the North Ridge to flow down to the River Road facility.

Zoning Board Says "No" To Henry Gross Request

The Princeton Borough Zoning Board has voted against allowing Henry Gross & Co. to display outdoor furniture in front of its Palmer Square store.

This decision reversed the recommendation of the Borough Historic Preservation Review Committee, which not only acceded to the display in front of H. Gross but also recommended that other stores follow suit.

The Zoning Board took up the case because Palmer Square is private property and thus under its jurisdiction. Merchants who want to display merchandise in the public right of way have to take their case to Borough Council for a decision.

Zoning Officer Frank Slimak said the Board has historically turned down applications for the display of merchandise on private property.

The only exception he recalled was for Jay's Cycles, which was given permission three or four years ago to store bikes waiting for repair outside its store.

Mr. Slimak also believed the board acted to prevent a precedent being set. "They didn't want a settlement that would lead to other merchants requesting variances to display merchandise on their property."

Police Charge Suspect With Theft of Bicycle

A 23-year-old man with no known address was charged with possession of a stolen bicycle and trespassing last week, following some quick action by Princeton University security.

Thursday at 3, a Princeton University student reported to university security that her blue, 10-speed Panasonic bicycle, valued at $150, had been stolen sometime during the previous ten minutes from the fifth entry of Spelman Hall.

When the alarm was broadcast, a security officer at the main entrance booth to the campus recalled seeing a suspect riding a bike of that description.

AHHH! Nothing like gentle hands with a cold wet towel after a grueling battle.

In searching further, security members found the bicycle lying outside the Nassau Street Presbyterian Church. When they entered the church and saw the person who had been seen earlier riding the bicycle, they called police.

After the suspect was identified by the security officer, police arrested and charged Wren S. Jacan.

Jacan was also charged with trespassing at 146 Nassau Street, where he had been seen two hours earlier. When police had responded to check out the suspicious person report, Jacan had already gone.

He is scheduled to appear in Borough court on September 3.

Flames Engulf Truck; In Lot on Park Place

When police responded to a fire call Sunday evening at 11:14 in the Park Place lot, they found a GMC pickup truck engulfed in flames. The bed of the $2,000 truck, police said, had a load of tree limbs and crab apples.

The Princeton Fire Department and ten firemen responded and extinguished the blazing truck, which is owned by Thomas Von Oehsen of Nassau Street.

After conducting an investigation, the Assistant Fire Chief and Fire Inspector ruled out spontaneous combustion or the use of an accelerant as the cause of the fire. A cigarette thrown into the rear of the truck was listed as the probable cause.

Laurel Rd. Home Looted Of Jewelry and Silver

A Laurel Road home was entered last week and looted of $10,681 in jewelry from a bedroom jewelry box and $3,105 in other items, including several pieces of silver. Total loss was $13,786.

Police believe that a key found under a door mat was used to enter the home between 10:30 in the morning and 5:15. They report the home was "completely ransacked."

A white male in his 30s was observed in the area but not on the premises.

A Juniper Row home was entered and ransacked by an intruder who stole $2,550 in jewelry, $1,000 in furs and a television set and answering machine worth another $260.

The home, police said, was being cared for by a neighbor while the owner was away. Capt. Jack Petrone commented that there are no suspects in the theft and police do not believe there is a connection between the two entries.

Someone last week threw a rock through a window and then pushed up a screen to enter a dormitory room in Forbes College on the Princeton University campus.

Taken were $200 in cash and five cassette tapes valued at $58. The victim told police that three bottles of beer in a refrigerator were also taken.

An intruder pried open a second-floor window to gain entry last week to a swimming pool office at the Community Park pool complex. Taken in the overnight theft were $4 in change and a set of master keys for the pool lockers.

Borough police report the Friday shoplifting of six taupe silk blouses valued at $980 from the Harbinger on Palmer Square. The blouses, made by Ramsey of Dublin, were taken between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

A table-top, 19-inch color television set valued at more than $400 was stolen last week from a Witherspoon Street apartment. Nothing else was taken.

The victim reported the apartment had been locked. Police believe it was entered through an unlocked window during the two hours the occupant was away.

Medical Center lost $40 when her wallet was taken from her locker which she said had been locked. Police report that it had not been forced open.

Five minutes after the theft was reported, the Princeton Post Office called to report the victim's wallet had been found in a postal drop box. Police said that all items were intact except for the money.

parked Thursday in the Trinity Church municipal lot. Owned by the Cytex Company of South Plainfield, the van yielded a portable band saw and drill estimated as worth more than $250.

A Lanier transcription unit and headset plus a pair of earrings are missing from an office at 32 Nassau Street. There was no forced entry.

Capt. Thomas Michaud reported at this point police believe the items, valued at $367.50, were not taken at the same time. Capt. Michaud added that there has been a series of minor thefts from the office.

Two detour signs and a Road Closed sign were stolen early Monday morning from the intersection of Moore and Wiggins Streets where they had been placed by the Lawrenceville firm of Joseph Jingoli & Sons.

Several teenagers were seen tampering with the signs before they drove off in a light-colored, two-door vehicle. Police were called about the incident at 12:17 a.m.

Lawrence Teen Indicted For Armed Robbery Here

A Lawrenceville resident, Roiece Thomas, 19, of Albermarle Road, was indicted last week by a Mercer County grand jury in connection with a May 2 armed robbery of a Witherspoon Street resident.

According to the indictment, Thomas allegedly robbed his victim at knifepoint of $6 in front of the victim's home. When Thomas asked for 50 cents, the victim gave him a dollar and continued walking toward his home. Thomas then allegedly asked him for cigarettes, while pointing a knife at his stomach. "If you don't give me all you have, I'll cut you," Thomas is alleged to have said.

He has been charged with armed robbery, theft, and possession of a weapon for unlawful purposes. If convicted, Thomas faces a maximum penalty of 20 years in jail.

Two Cars Hit Head-On At 206 and Red Hill Road

Two cars collided head-on Thursday afternoon on Route 206 near Red Hill Road.

Kathryn C. Blisard, 36, of Trenton, told police that she was driving about 40 miles an hour when she applied her brakes and her car swerved into the opposite lane. Her 1976 sedan struck a 1984 Honda Civic operated by James W. Edwards, 61, of Cherry Valley Road.

Two were injured in the accident and taken to Princeton Medical Center for treatment. Ms. Blisard sustained cuts of the neck and Verena Edwards, 58, of Cherry Valley Road, received injuries to her chest.

Ms. Blisard was issued a summons by Ptl. Robert Buchanan for failing to keep to the right while passing a car proceeding in the opposite direction.

Both cars sustained extensive front end damage and had to be towed from the scene.

Car Rams Pole. Perry K. DeLay, 22, of St. Louis was ticketed for careless driving last week after his car hit a pole on Washington Road, injuring his passenger.

braked, he said, causing his 1981 Audi to hydroplane into a service pole.

A passenger, Malynne M. Sternstein, 20, of Philadelphia received lacerations of the neck and was taken to the Medical Center.

Driver Charged with DWI Passenger Also Charged

A driver and passenger have been charged with alcohol violations after Township police made a routine stop of their car.

According to police, a car driven by Kim S. Thornton, 19, of 49 Lovers Lane, had just started to move from its parking place on Parkside Drive when it was stopped at 3:13 in the morning. Thornton, given balance and coordination tests at the scene and at police headquarters, was later charged with driving while intoxicated after taking a Breathalyzer test.

A passenger, David Lennon of 19 Pardoe Road, was charged with having an open bottle of beer in the car, and later released.

"Car Buyers" Charged: Received Stolen Property

Two men have been charged by Township police with receiving stolen property, after they were arrested last week while allegedly road testing a car they planned to buy.

Roicee L. Thomas, 19, of Albermarle Road in Lawrenceville, and Rodney Gerald, 18, of Trenton, together with two Lawrenceville juveniles, were standing next to a 1973 Nova that was stopped on Edgerstoune near Route 206. The car's hood was up and it had no front license plate.

A lookup by Township police revealed that the license plate on the back had been stolen earlier the same day from a car in Trenton.

Police report that Thomas and Gerald had taken the car, which had no plates, from a Quarry Street resident, with the pretense that they were going to road test it before buying it.

The car was towed back to Quarry Street. Thomas and Gerald were charged and later

Township Sets September 29 Date For the Annual "Fall Clean-Up"

"Fall Clean-Up" in Princeton Township will begin on Monday, September 29 at 8 a.m., and continue until completed on a one-time basis. The clean-up is expected to take one week. In case of bad weather, it will be extended for a second week.

Materials should be out for collection by 8 a.m. on the first day of the program but should not be put out more than a week before this date. They should be placed on the curb or at the edge of the yard, not in the street.

Household items such as furniture and appliances, and yard and garden debris such as tree branches, twigs, and grass clippings will be picked up. Only household items will be collected in the Township Garbage Collection Districts where yard and garden debris is permitted in normal garbage collection.

There are specific requirements for preparing materials for pick up. Brush, leaves, grass clippings and such must be in closed plastic bags or sealed boxes. Paper bags or easily ripped containers are not acceptable.

Branches and twigs must be huddled and tied with rope or twine, not wire. Bundles should be no more than 1 foot in diameter and 4 feet long. Tree limbs should be cut in 4 foot lengths and neatly stacked.

Refrigerators and freezers must have doors removed.

Items which are put out and do not meet the requirements will not be picked up. Residents may call the Engineering Department at 921-7077 for further information.

Check-Passer Is Fined In Two Princeton Courts

Days of reckoning came last week for a Plainsboro resident charged with passing bad checks in Township and Borough stores.

In Township court last week, Benedicta Williams, 45-05 Ravens Crest Drive, was fined $275 plus $30 to the Violent Crime Compensation Board on each of three bad check charges. A 30-day sentence to the Mercer County Detention Center was suspended by Judge Sydney Souter but he placed Ms. Williams on one-year's probation and ordered her to make full restitution to the victims plus bank charges.

She had been charged with passing a $200 check in May at the Super Fresh Market; one for $125.73 in April at the Acme Market and another for $108.16 at Titles Unlimited.

A day earlier in Borough court, Ms. Williams had been fined $35 and $25 to the VCCB on each of three more bad check charges and ordered to make full restitution to each victim.

A 10-day sentence to the Mercer County Workhouse was suspended by Judge Russell Annich Jr.

Back in Township court, Christopher T. Giaco, 400 Skillman Road, was fined $120 and $30 VCCB for having an open bottle of alcohol in a car. Jim Colavita, 910 Cherry Valley Road, paid $100 for having an open fire in violation of a Township ordinance, and Bob Anderson of Jasna Polana, Lawrenceville Road, paid $50 for loud amplified music that was in violation of the Township's noise ordinance.

Fined $65 each for motor vehicle violations were Stanley J. Bitello, 39 Columbia Avenue, Hopewell, stop sign; and Dawn M. Hobson; 23 Pine will be rewarded with special prizes and 'Between the Sheets' cocktails will cost 75 cents. "We wanted people in the Princeton and corporate community to know the Tap Room won't be a dark, dark room any more," says Cyndee Baumann, Nassau Inn's director of marketing. "The idea is to make it a fun place, a place to meet other people, other yuppie types."

The Tap Room, according to Nassau Inn General Manager Steven Rosenstock, had lost its identity. "People didn't know if it was a restaurant, tavern, or bar. People who came for drinks were uncomfortable because other people were dining."

With an eye clearly turned toward the highly successful J.B. Winberie across the street, Mr. Rosenstock says the Inn wants a successful room. "To be successful you have to attract a larger audience. We were catering to a small market, and now we're broadening it. There's a different market in Princeton."

Look-a-Like. On Thursday, September 11, there will be a "Dolly Parton Look-a-Like Contest" for both men and women. Henry Gross will be the judge, with impersonators vying for "booby prizes" and the top prize of a limousine ride to New York, tickets to "Cats," and a room for two at the Omni Park Central.

And on Wednesday, September 17, the eighth day of the event, there will be a "Sweet Dreams" adult fashion show of "daring sleepwear" worn by professional models. A Sweet Dream cocktail will cost fifty cents.

YANKEE DOODLE SHOWS THE WAY: Pointing to the new sign in front of the main entrance to the Tap Room are, l. to r., Cyndee Baumann, Nassau Inn marketing director, and Judy Minart, administrator of sales.

On the agenda for the rest of the opening nights are a live radio broadcast; a New Year's Eve celebration with complimentary New Year's Eve buffet; "Put a Feather in Your Cap," with the feather traded for a free dinner; a Princeton University dedication; "Celebrate the Bubbly," offering ten different champagne cocktails for less than a dollar; and "Get Up and Go," where persons bringing any piece of luggage may win a weekend for two in Baltimore, Washington, or Princeton.

Ms. Baumann, who insists nothing will be vulgar or hurt anybody's feelings, said the opening festivities are geared to participation. "We want people to feel comfortable as they participate. There'll be things going on; it won't be like going to a bar and having a drink."

Remember When? Just 16 years ago there were other, very different, things going on that brought the Tap Room into the news. On February 23, 1970, Jennifer Macleod, president of the local chapter of the National Organization for Women, led a group of women in a sit-in to protest the Tap Room's men-only policy at lunch.

The group's demands were met, but Ms. Macleod recalls that it took months to get the Nassau Inn to change the sign reading "Men's Tap Room."

What does she think of the upcoming promotion? "It doesn't seem very Princeton," she says. "Not that I think it's immoral; it's just not very Princeton."

The newly remodeled room will still have the Norman Rockwell mural in place, but the bar in front of it has been moved upstairs to the lobby. A glass panel will be placed in front of the work to protect it.

The new bar, which seats 34, will take up the whole front of the room. The old bar seated six. The tables, which received their carved initials in the twenties and thirties when they were part of the old Nassau Inn, will remain. But they will move to the back half of the room. The booths will also stay, and the lighting will be augmented.

Mr. Rosenstock said that the Nassau Inn has been in touch with Princeton University to acquire current photos of sports teams and other memorabilia to hang on the walls of the Tap Room. He said the inn doesn't want to lose its association with the University. "We are part of Princeton and the Tap Room has deep roots in the University, not only with alumni," he says. "We will always be sensitive to that."

Ms. Baumann, who has been at the Nassau Inn for two years, said the idea for the opening promotion came from a Blarney Contest held on St. Patrick's Day. "There was group participation," she recalled. "People had two or three minutes to do Blarney, and they loved it."

"A lot of people in the community and among our clients say they can't wait," she says. "Everybody is going out and buying blonde wigs for the Dolly Parton part."

THE NEW CLARIDGE

Wine, Beer & Spirits

WHAT'S MY WINE?

With Jeanne Rothar

Champagne

It's called sparkling wine, but all that sparkles is not Champagne. Sparkling wines are made by adding yeast and sugar to wine which then undergoes refermentation under pressure. In the classic Champagne region of France, with its particular climate and chalky soil, this is a lengthy procedure. It involves blending white wines made from expensive grapes, individual handling of the bottles, and long aging for the secondary fermentation.

The "methode champenoise" is followed in other areas of France and the rest of the world, but the European common market countries have agreed that the name "Champagne" belongs only to that region. The United States does not come under this agreement, so New York State and California "champagnes" are sparkling wines which may or may not be produced by the expensive "methode champenoise". Look for the phrase, "fermented in this bottle".

There are several popular levels of sweetness for sparkling wines: The driest is "natural", followed by "brut" (very dry) and then "extra dry" (slightly sweet). Whichever you choose, chill it well, open it carefully, and enjoy the wine!

Mercer County Offers "College of the Air"

Mercer County Community College's "College of the Air" makes it possible for busy or homebound students to go to college by watching television or cable TV.

"College of the Air" telecourses are college credit television classes fully equivalent in content to on-campus courses. It is possible for a student to complete an entire degree program by combining classroom and "College of the Air" classes. Certain telecourses even allow students to take examinations at home.

Fall telecourses will begin September 8 and air on MCCC's Cable Television Network Channel 23, New Jersey Network Channel 52 and the CTN Cable Television Network of New Jersey.

If a telecourse class program is missed by the student, it can be seen at another time on MCCC's Channel 23. Each regular telecourse program is scheduled for three different times: once in the morning, again that evening and a third time that weekend. Classes may also be viewed at the West Windsor Campus Library.

Taught by MCCC faculty members, telecourses offered this fall include Business Organization and Management, Personal Finance and

All inside operations at Bakers Basin will remain closed that day for the removal of some asbestos insulation from around hot water pipes. Previously scheduled road tests will be performed at the facility.

Money Management, Principles of Management, Computer Concepts, Cosmos, Principles of Marketing, Concepts of Health and Fitness, Child Development, Introduction to Sociology, Anthropology, Marriage and the Family, Contemporary Society I and Contemporary Society II.

FIVE YEARS AGO Town Topics, August 1981

More than 3,000 acres of Princeton Township had been defoliated by gypsy moths this far in 1981, according to figures released by the New Jersey Department of Agriculture.

The report went on to state that gypsy moth damage reached new record levels in the state, almost 800,000 acres, nearly twice that affected last year. The state was using selected aerial spraying in high-value timber areas to help control the pest. "We don't pretend that we can eradicate it," commented John Keff, a supervising entomologist for the department.

It figured to be a while before the first car rolled through the gate, but the Borough and Collins development had finally reached an agreement on the financing of the Chambers Street parking garage. The Borough, which owned the land on which the garage would be built, was also set to borrow the money because a municipality could get money cheaper than a private developer. Collins, in turn, would pay all costs related to financing, plus other considerations.

"The important thing is that this garage must be no financial burden to the Borough whatsoever," commented Councilman Richard Macgill. "The Borough is doing Collins a substantial favor, getting them parking at tax-exempt rates," he added.

Mike's Tavern won the Princeton Women's Softball League championship with a 2-0 triumph over Andy's Tavern. Members of the winning Mike's team included Sallie Toscano, Mickey Morgan, Dee Pearce, Karen Parker, Marilyn Stevens, Lorraine Duthie, Maureen Merrigan, Clare Baxter, Debbie Breithaupt and Missy McCloskey.

TEN YEARS AGO Town Topics, August, 1976

For the first time in Princeton history — Township or Borough — a woman presided as mayor. In the absence of vacationing Township mayor Jay Bleiman, Committee member

Margaret Broadwater, as the senior member of the majority party (Democrats) was Acting Mayor

The historic event was formally noticed by her colleague, Elizabeth Hutter, who would herself have become mayor if the previous November election had been won by the Republicans.

Two anonymous donors gave Township Committee more than $39,000 for a bikeway (it's used more by joggers these days) running along the Great Road, from Westerly Road to Stuart Road

Florence Burke, who had been in schools in Princeton for 32 years at the time, was appointed Acting Administrative Assistant to the Principal of Riverside School, a job which eventually led to her becoming principal of the school after she acquired three more curriculum credits. Meanwhile over in John Witherspoon School, William Johnson was set to take over in his first year as principal there.

You could get into the Lawrence Drive-In for $2.50 a carload on some nights, and while there be entertained by three unforgettable films that somehow missed nominations for Oscars. They included: Revenge of the Cheerleaders, Massage Parlor Hookers, and Hot Pants Holiday.

Princeton resident William M. Boyd was named publisher of the New Brunswick Home News and president of the Home News Publishing Co. He succeeded his father, Hugh N. Boyd, who had been publisher of the paper since 1955.

A-1 Employment Service had planned an open house for mothers who may want to return to the work force in September. A-1 reported that it was frantically trying to find enough people — chiefly mothers whose kids would be in school — to fill the job openings that had come pouring in from industries in the Princeton area.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Town Topics, August, 1971

Summer of '42 closed at the Princeton Playhouse after a record-breaking eight-week stay that drew a total attendance of 23,644. The previous record was five consecutive weeks achieved by Tom Jones, The Graduate, Goodbye Columbus, Romeo and Juliet, *M*A*S*H* and Z.

Pipe-smoking Patricia Wertheimer was set to greet Princeton High School students as their new principal. Pupils returning in September were going to find several changes in their daily schedule including an "open campus," interest centers, stiffer attendance policies, and the new Learning Community for 200 of them. The open campus meant no more study hall assignments. Students with free periods could go to an interest center, the library for study, into one of the two indoor student lounges, or outside for relaxing.

Tropical storm Doria dumped 10 inches of rain on Princeton in 24 hours, and water was everywhere it wasn't supposed to be. Harry's Brook, in particular overflowed into many nearby homes. Flooded basements were common, including one in the ORC building that housed the Township's tax offices.

The heavy rains came all day Friday and Friday night, leaving many roads leading to Princeton closed or reduced to one lane of traffic the next day. That proved a major problem for some 45,000 fans attempting to reach Palmer Stadium for an exhibition football game between the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles, sponsored by the New Jersey Jaycees.

Route One was closed both south and north of Princeton for part of the day. Route 206 north was impassable up near Hillsborough, and there was only one lane open on Route 27 across the Kingston bridge. Locally, Rosedale Road and, of course, Quaker Bridge Road were also closed. Many fans abandoned their cars and walked the last few miles into town.

"It looked like a great crusade, converging on some holy city," commented Township police chief Fred Porter. "People were wading through water, women holding their skirts up out of the mud."

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Town Topics, August, 1966

"Our long range goal is to live up to the promise of merger; to make our system equal to the best in the country. And we have this potential."

As the new Princeton Regional School district (combining formerly separate Borough and Township schools) began its first year with 5,088 pupils, Dr. Harvey D. Rothberg, president of the first Regional Board, expressed sober optimism about the future.

The most serious problem facing the new board was overcrowding, with double sessions a distinct possibility, because of the growing number of students coming from sending districts. Montgomery Township and Rocky Hill Borough were both sending students to Princeton, while school officials here wished they would begin exploring the idea of merging their school systems.

The University had hired a construction firm to repair the dam at the end of Carnegie Lake in Kingston. The repairs were the first to the structure since it was built in 1907.

Thirty to 40 persons a night were being turned away because of overcrowding at The Catacomb, a popular coffeehouse that had opened the previous month in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church.

"The unique aspect of The Catacomb is that it blends successfully two age groups, teenagers and college students," reported its director, Kevin McNutt. Rock n' roll was banned in favor of guitarists, jazz combos and folk singers.

Chuck Hector of Hamilton Square, a member of the Princeton Y Flying Fish and River Road Swim Club, set a new state record for boys' 10-and-under in the 50-meter breaststroke in the Raritan Valley Invitational Meet. His breaststroke clocking of 42.8 was two full seconds faster than the previous record.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Town Topics, August 1956

A score of Princeton residents were seeking to buy "Drumthwacket," the historic Stockton Street mansion, from its owner A. N. Spanel.

Their plans were to turn the mansion and its 12 acres into "The Princeton Lawn Club, Inc." The family-type club was to have 12 tennis courts, swimming and diving pools, a clubhouse and dining facilities.

Booking interest in McCarter Theatre was at a post-war high.

with a lively season just around the corner, under the aegis of Richard Pleasant and Isadora Bennett. A pre-Broadway opening had been lined up for late September, and a number of other openers and company tours also assured.

"A growing Princeton theatre audience can apparently command a greater season in the handsomely equipped confines of McCarter," Town Topics noted.

Township patrolman Richard V. Steiner answered a "routine" disturbance call on Ewing Street and narrowly missed being shot. He was trying to calm down an enraged homeowner, when the man suddenly pulled a .38 calibre revolver, stuck it in Mr. Steiner's stomach and pulled the trigger.

The gun did not go off, but in the ensuing struggle between the two, a shot was fired and the bullet passed through both Mr. Steiner's pants' legs, without hitting him. Other officers at the scene soon had the man in handcuffs, and Ptl. Steiner escaped without injury.

35 YEARS AGO

Town Topics, August, 1951

More and more commuters were wondering whether the enlargement of the parking facilities at the Princeton Junction station didn't mean the ultimate end to the Dinky.

It was reported "on good authority" (according to Town Topics) that the P&B, long considered a losing financial operation, will eventually be supplanted by a railroad operated motor coach service. Pennsylvania Railroad officials would neither confirm nor deny the report.

Borough Council was deliberating the question of a 40-hour week for Borough employees. A petition for a 40-hour week for the Police Department (which worked a 48-hour week) was addressed to the Mayor and Council by Ptl. Peter J. McCrohan, Frank T. Bird and James Hennen.

The Lawrence Drive-In was celebrating its third anniversary with a week-long series of exciting feature movies such as Mr. Belvedere Rings the Bell. This film stars Clifton Webb in the role of an aging prankster who raises hob in an old people's home to prove that the greatest enjoyment of life can begin after 80.

As part of the celebration the drive-in had several enticements designed to draw patrons. These included corsages for the first 150 ladies attending each night, free popcorn for the kiddies, and door prizes ranging from a used automobile to electric washing machines and irons.

Several stores were making news on Palmer Square. Sears, Roebuck was expanding to new and larger quarters on the east side. The Clothes Line went from 33 to 53-57 on the Square, and Joan's Dress Shop had closed down for the rest of August and would re-open after Labor Day.

A subversive group was at work in the state, Town Topics reported, seeking to undermine the civilian defense effort in New Jersey. Princeton residents were sent official-looking letters telling them they have been appointed air raid wardens and instructing them to pick up a multitude of ridiculous equipment at police headquarters. The letters were signed by the "Director General of Air Raid Wardens," a guy who enjoyed calling himself "Hugh B. Reddy."

That was the humor of 35 years ago.

United Jersey Announces
3-for-2 Stock Split
The Board of Directors of United Jersey Banks has announced a 3-for-2 stock split and a dividend increase of 11.4 percent on the resulting common shares. This marks the fifth consecutive year in which United Jersey has increased its dividend by more than ten percent.

"Over the past five years, United Jersey has sustained a compound growth rate in earnings per share of 11.7 percent," said United Jersey's chairman and president T. Joseph Semrod.
United States Banker magazine recently ranked United Jersey Banks' performance eighth among the nation's 90 largest regional bank holding companies. Last month, the company posted a second quarter earnings increase of 22 percent.

Second Quarter Results Reported by Chronar

Chronar Corp., Princeton, has reported revenues of $4,684,798 for the second quarter ended June 30, compared with $3,329,541 for the corresponding period of 1985. Net income was $601,775, or $.08 per share, compared with $409,545, or $.07 per share, in the second quarter a year ago.

Chronar Corp. is involved in the research, development, and commercial manufacture of amorphous silicon photovoltaic panels which generate electricity directly from sunlight.

Liposome Co. Reports $1,100,000 Net Loss

The Liposome Company, Inc., Forrestal Center, has issued its financial report for the quarter ended June 30. This is the first financial report since the company's initial public offering on July 23.

Revenues for the second quarter, totaling $632,000, included $457,000 of collaborative research and development payments and $175,000 of interest income.

The company reported a net loss of $1,100,000 for this quarter, $.11 per common share, and a loss of $2,200,000 for the six months, an increase of $639,000 over the prior year. Edgar T. Mertz, chairman & CEO, stated "This loss is consistent with our 1986 business plan and reflects our decision to add staff more quickly and to shift overall emphasis away from joint-venture work and more toward the development of the company's own products."

CONGREGATION CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY: Montgomery United Methodist Church will be the setting of celebration and reunion activities marking the 20th anniversary of its congregation.

RELIGION

Congregation Celebrates Its 20th Anniversary

Celebration and reunion plans are scheduled for September 7 for the 20th anniversary of Montgomery United Methodist Church on Sunset Road in Belle Mead.

The new church congregation came into being 20 years ago on September 11, 1966, as 70 area residents attended the first worship service of what would become Montgomery United Methodist Church. On November 18, 1966, 65 persons were formally enrolled as charter members and a certificate of organization was received from the Northern New Jersey Conference.

Initially services were held at the Montgomery Township Municipal Building and Orchard Road School until the first sanctuary and educational facility were consecrated in 1973. The ministry and congregation continued to grow, and a larger sanctuary, fellowship hall and study were completed in 1981.

Today Montgomery United Methodist Church has over 300 members committed to their faith and dedicated to serving their communities. In honor of the past 20 years, the anniversary celebration will begin with a worship service at 11 a.m. and continue throughout the afternoon with a luncheon, reception, program, and children's activities. The day will be highlighted by the attendance of past ministers, members and staff.

Reverend David Lehmkuhl and the congregation invite past and present members and area residents to join in the celebration and reunion.

Bulletin Notes

The Metropolitan Community Church of Christ the Liberator will sponsor a 50-hour vigil of continuous prayer for all those affected by the AIDS crisis.

Held at the chapel at Nassau Presbyterian Church, the vigil begins at 6 p.m. on Friday, September 5 and will continue until Sunday, September 7 at 8 p.m. More information is available by calling 443-1706.

The Rev. Prathia H. Wynn will be guest preacher on Sunday at the regular ten o'clock service of worship in the Princeton University Chapel.

An alumna of Temple University and Princeton Theological Seminary, Ms. Wynn is minister at the Mt. Sharon Baptist Church, Philadelphia, and a doctoral candidate and research fellow in the Department of Religion and Society at Princeton Seminary. The sermon topic will be "Rare Fellowship."

Summer Sundays in August. A time when Princeton's oft-quoted likeness to a Southern town was never more apparent. A time when, not all that long ago, you could roll a six-foot ball down the center of Nassau Street and not hit anyone.

It's not that way any more. On a recent Sunday — a day of blue skies and light breezes that might have beckoned anyone to the shore or parks — there were few if any parking spaces left in the Central Business District by one in the afternoon. Camera-carrying families dotted the town. And conversations were peppered with phrases such as, "The tour begins in a half hour," and "Let's look for a place to eat."

Which came first, the chicken or the egg? Did visitors converge on Princeton because more stores decided to open on Sunday? Or did more stores open because there were greater numbers of potential customers in town?

The answer is hard to come by. But what is easy to see is that a greater number of stores are opening their doors on Sundays — even in August.

A Forerunner. Nassau Hobby was one of the first to open Sundays. Owner Hoge Woolwine says Princeton is turning into a weekend shopping area.

"I don't think it's becoming New Hope," he says. "It's not an artsy town. But it becomes busy after church. People eat, and then walk around."

He reports he has never before seen so many people in town on Sundays. "Our Sundays can be as good as WHAT DAY IS THIS? Sundays in August — when in the past you could have cooked eggs on Nassau Street and found no one with whom to share the omelet — have taken on a new and busier look.

weekdays. We're running ahead of last year's figures because there are more people."

Henry Gross is another believer in Sunday openings. He's open Sundays eleven months of the year, except for part of January and February. But he says he'll have to rethink that. "It's a major mistake if you're looking at it from a business point of view not to be open on Sunday."

He feels Princeton has now become a place to go on Sundays instead of a place to flee. "People who live in Princeton don't have to come here on Sunday, but other people come to visit."

The Princeton he sees from his Palmer Square store on Sundays is a decidedly visitor-oriented place. "The majority of people in and around town are typically not Princeton residents."

Apparel Shops Open. Talbot's is just one of the clothing stores open on August Sundays. Others include Mooshka, Benetton, Ann Taylor and Banana Republic. Among the non-apparel stores doing business on Sunday are Kitchen Kapers, Micawber Books, Norman's and Woolworth's.

Susie McCabe, manager of Talbot's, says the store has been open Sundays in August for the past two years. Business is slower than last year, she reports, but business is generally slow for the month.

"It has been a short summer and a quiet one," she says. "I do comparisons with other Princeton stores, and it has been quiet generally in Princeton."

Mall business, on the other hand, has been booming on Sundays. Why? Because of the bad weekend weather. "Malls always do better when the weather is bad," says Ms. McCabe.

Although these summer Sundays have been quiet, she says the store will remain open seven days a week since there is traffic every day.

Not All Are Open. But many stores are still dark on Sundays, among them such traditional Princeton shops as Clayton's and Hult's.

Everett Garretson of Clayton's said that changes in the community are leading to more Sunday openings. Princeton, he says, is caught in a huge corridor, "and it wouldn't surprise me if a number of businesses stay open on Sunday."

According to Chuck Simone at Hult's, the store has been open on a few Sundays, and would open again for holidays and sales.

But he noted that a lot of people work five and six days a week in Hult's, and they don't want to work seven.

"There are lots of things I like to do on Sunday," he says. "The kids play soccer and we can go to the shore. We miss that on Saturdays."

However, if Princeton were to become a major shopping area — which Mr. Simone thinks will eventually happen — Hult's would have to remain open. "We'd just have to work something out."

Micawber Books has been open Sundays for the past two years. Manager Eleanor Burnette, who minds the shop, says the visiting population

Diane Wargo Sparkles at Open Air Theatre In the Song-Filled "Annie Get Your Gun"

According to the program for the Artists' Showcase production of Annie Get Your Gun, the real-life story of Annie Oakley was somewhat different than the plot of the musical written by Herbert and Dorothy Fields, with music and lyrics by Irving Berlin. The real Annie used her prowess as a sharpshooter to support her family and pay off the mortgage on their farm. After she met and hested marksman Frank Butler, he married her and gave up his career to manage hers. They didn't do badly either: Annie left $500,000 in her will.

Well, forget all that when you go to see Annie at Washington Crossing Open Air Theatre. The musical Annie is depicted as an illiterate humpkin from Darke County, Ohio; the highest anyone in her family can count is the total of an individual's fingers and toes. She is naively proud of her sharpshooting ("I can shoot the fuzz off a peach"), but as the play proceeds she learns that feminine competence alienates the male ego; the only way to be accepted is by playing the helpless female and becoming "second best."

If you can get over your irritation with that premise, you should enjoy this show. Diane Wargo as Annie is really good

When she struts on stage in tattered buckskins, her bright blonde hair tousled under a slouch hat, you sit up and take notice. By the time she's finished singing about how everybody she knows has succeeded in life by "Doin' What Comes Natur'ly," you really hope that she will, too. Wargo has zip and sparkle, and an attractive singing voice (especially effective in the low registers of "Moonshine Lullaby"). She plays Annie very broad, but that's okay. This is a show of stereotype.

News of The THEATRES

When the play begins, Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show has just come to town. The manager, Charlie Davenport, and his assistant, Dolly Tate, hawk the show to the residents of Cincinnati, ca. 1880, and issue a challenge. Buffalo Bill's star, Frank Butler, will take on any local in a shooting contest. Annie is delighted at the chance to show up the "swollen-headed stiff" who thinks he's the best sharpshooter in the world — even when she discovers the swollen-headed stiff is the same person as the handsome young man she was smitten by in a chance encounter prior to the match. After Annie wins, she is recruited for the Wild West Show by Butler, Davenport and Buffalo Bill himself (Warren Raymond) in a spirited rendition of "There's No Business Like Show Business."

Chemistry Convincing. Butler (Greg Vannoy) is good-looking — tall, slim and sexy — and the chemistry between Annie and him is convincing. Davenport, who wears a wonderful red-spangled vest, is played comfortably by Vincent Zarate. Audrey Mill's Tate, a buxom lady, appropriately shrill and abrasive, could do with a little more malevolence to lend plausibility to the lyric "Why does everyone hate Dolly Tate?" Buffalo Bill, more formally known as Colonel William Cody, is a fine figurehead. In a modest little in-joke, he wears a white goatee and white frock-coated suit like Colonel Sanders of Kentucky Fried Chicken.

Generally, the costumes by Carol Stawski are interesting and effective. Annie's four siblings, transformed from hackwoods ragamuffins, look darling (which is most of their reason for being on stage, since they don't have much to do with the plot); and the society scene in Act Two derives most of its effect from the delicious ballgowns of the ladies.

The sets, by director/conductor Byron Steele and Raymond Foote, are relatively innocuous when in place, but seem awkward for the stagehands. One enormous black-shrouded prop which looms against the back of the set turns out to be the railing of the pit in which Annie performs a motorcycle trick. All the audience sees of the trick is the motorcycle, which Annie wheels across the stage, and the backs of some spectators who ooh and ah while the loudspeakers project engine-roar and spotlights circle the stage. I thought it was clever, but when it was over a child's voice a couple of rows behind me piped, "Is that all?"

The motorcycle trick provides the climax of the plot. It impels Butler, who had other plans for Annie ("Sure, I'm stuck on her; but she's my project, I want to be the boss"), to leave Buffalo Bill and go over to star in a competing wild west show run by Pawnee Bill. Pawnee Bill's star, Chief Sitting Bull (Dominick Latini), is so impressed with Annie that he quits Pawnee Bill and joins Buffalo Bill, having adopted Annie as a Sioux Indian in a scene that even modern dance choreography by Kim Bruschi and a solo by a pleasant-voiced Willie Hemingway couldn't redeem from being somewhat embarrassing. I said this was a show of stereotypes, and the portrayal of American Indians in it demands a lot of tolerance.

The fact that the motorcycle trick constitutes the climax is a shortcoming of the show — because it occurs shortly before the end of the first act. The whole second act has to make do with four songs (there were 10 in the first act) and a very thin plot development wherein Buffalo Bill and Pawnee Bill plan a merger to offset the fact that both their shows have achieved social prominence without financial solvency. (Says Davenport of command performances for the crowned heads of Europe, "They command; we perform — nobody pays.")

The merger of Bills, Buffalo and Pawnee, brings about a reunion between Butler and Annie, which results in a renewal of their old feud and a re-play of their shooting match. This time, having learned her lesson, Annie throws the contest and wins the man. "I'm no good, I don't know what's going to become of me," sighs Annie the loser, batting her eyelashes and swinging her clasped hands. "I'll take care of you," replies Butler.

Great Songs. The show is notable for its classic Irving Berlin songs — not only "There's No Business Like Show Business," but also "The Girl That I Marry," "They Say It's Wonderful," "My Defenses Are Down," "I Got the Sun in the Morning," "Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better." When Annie sings, they are great songs. Butler's voice starts to wear out toward the end of the evening; but "Old-Fashioned Wedding" with Annie works, and "Anything You Can Do," also with Annie, almost works.

However, there is a problem with the songs. Mostly, it is a peculiarity of staging. Early in the show, two or three numbers (including "Doin' What Comes Natur'ly" and "You Can't Get a Man with a Gun") are staged so that the song comes to a close, the audience applauds and the singer goes off-stage...then reappears for another chorus. After this happens a couple of times, the confused audience starts holding their applause, unable to tell whether a song is finished or not. Later numbers such as "They Say It's Wonderful" and "Moonshine Lullaby" include conversation and stage business in the lull before the final chorus. So the audience isn't confused anymore, but neither is it much inclined to exhibit enthusiasm.

Which is too bad. On the whole, this is a fun production. Aside from being somewhat too long, it is well directed, competently acted — and Wargo's Annie really does "sparkle like the morning sun."

Annie Get Your Gun will play at Washington Crossing from August 27 through 30. The box office (609-737-1826) opens at 4 p.m. on performance days only; shows start at 8:30 p.m.

week, Wed.-Fri., Barry Lyndon (PG), 7:30; Sat. & Sun., Per-

Final Week of Films For Summer Cinema

The tenth and final week of McCarter Theatre's Summer
Cinema '86 season at Kresge Auditorium will open with Stanley Kubrick's 1975 three-hour period film epic Barry Lyndon.

As writer, producer and director, Kubrick spent three years trying to produce an authentic vision of 19th-century England, from customs to costumes, to battle sequences and candlelit scenes filmed without auxiliary light. The result was a film that won four Oscars including cinematographer, musical score, set design, and costumes.

The film stars Ryan O'Neal, in a title role derived from Thackeray's 19th-century novel about a rags to riches rogue who galavants through Europe.
Marisa Berenson plays Lady
Lyndon.

Chosen "Best Film of the Year" by the National Board of Review, Barry Lyndon remains one of the great period dramas of modern cinema and features traditional Irish music by The Chieftains.

Summer Cinema '86 will conclude with a double feature in which musical scoring plays an important role. Nicholas Roeg's 1970 Performance is an initial box office failure which has become a cult classic.

When a gangster takes refuge from his former associates in the home of a bisexual, one-time rock star (Mick Jagger) the result is long on violence, identity questions and role-playing. The film was originally rated 'X'.

Koyaanisqatsi, an 87-minute visual tone poem — without commentary or narrative — on nature, man and the state of contemporary civilization in America, has also achieved cult status. Set to a mesmerizing Philip Glass score, it is not so much a documentary as an essay in sound and images.

Using time lapse, slow motion, serial and infra-red photography, director Godfrey Reggio and photographer Ron Fricke move from a Hopi painting in the desert to the Rockies, from urban skyscrapers to collapsing tenements. Full of visual and visceral thrills that take it well beyond the realm of experimental cinema, it has been called the Fantasia of the 1980's.

'The River Niger' Opens At Crossroads Theatre

The Crossroads Theatre Company's 1986-87 season will open on Saturday, September 13 at 8:30 p.m. with *The River
Niger*, an explosive family drama by Joseph Walker, directed by Dean Irby.

Although directing at Crossroads for the first time, Dean Irby's past credits include the original production of Home for the Negro Ensemble Company, where he served as resident director for two years.

Sunday Shopping

makes up the difference in business on Sundays. "I see a gradual increase in business and a shift to greater steadiness," she reports.

And over at Thomas Sweet, Owner Thomas Grim says that August Sunday business has gone up 50 percent since 1981.

"August is the slowest summer month, but it is definitely stronger than it used to be."

Some visitors leave town disappointed because not every store is open on Sunday. A couple from Lancaster County, Pa., who were both wearing Princeton shirts, said they had hoped to buy more shirts before they left. They were directed to Henry Gross and Woolworth's, but said the ones they wanted were at the Army and Navy Store on Witherspoon Street.

"And that," they said in a disappointed tone, "is closed."

LET'S TALK ABOUT

WATERING TREES AND SHRUBS

with Sam DeTuro

Woodwinds Associates

You should inspect your trees and shrubs for signs of drought damage. Wilting of the leaves is the first sign to look for, the next stage is browning or scorching of leaves from the tip down and edges in.

Lilac, Dogwood and Forsythia are the first to wilt even though they may be well established. A good watering at wilting stage will bring your plants back with little or no damage. Once the leaves are scorched they will continue to be disfigured for the remainder of the summer.

All trees and shrubs that have been planted within the last two years should be soaked once every 10 days if we do not have any rain. Established trees and shrubs should be watered every 2-3 weeks.

A soaker hose should be used when watering. To moisten the top 10-12 inches of soil you should water about 3-4 hrs.

The soaker hose should be turned on its side to circle the tree and direct the water in the area of maximum tree roots. For small trees turn side with holes facing trunk and for large trees face holes outward.

The day following watering open ground with a shovel to see if soil is moist to a depth of 10-12 inches.

Should you have further questions, please feel free to call WOODWINDS, (924-3500) we will be happy to help.

Rogerson Worked Wonders His First Year Here; And Now The Question Is: 'Can He Do It Again?'

"What have you done for me lately, Ron Rogerson?" The August air has been filled with footballs, as professional, college and high school teams prepare for the '86 season, and suddenly that age-old question asked of all coaches by alumni and fans, many with short memories, pops into mind.

A quick check of the calendar reveals Princeton's opening game with Cornell is just a little over three weeks away. Pre-season practice will begin this

A BOOST FOR THE PASSING ATTACK: Mark Dexter, second only to Derek Graham in pass catching two seasons ago, will be back at wide receiver after taking last year off from Princeton.

Penn. Moreover, those who remember that November Saturday in Franklin Field know that the Tigers came within two quarters of football, and an unquestionably wrong call by the officials, of upsetting the four-time defending Ivy champions.

The Big Three title did come Princeton's way, however, as it defeated both Harvard and Yale in the same season for the first time since 1966. That's what Rogerson has done lately

A new season brings new challenges and problems, and Rogerson has a slew of them to solve if Old Nassau is to continue its winning ways. Memories of success fade quickly in fans' minds when matched against present disappointments.

This fall Rogerson must not only deal with higher expectations, but also problems that seem greater than a year ago. Last September, he faced the task of teaching a different offense to players he did not know well with a newly assembled coaching staff. But, he had a strong nucleus of experienced players returning.

Chief among them was a record-setting senior quarterback, Doug Butler, with two solid seasons behind him. Knowing from day one that Butler would start, Rogerson and his coaches could plan the newly-installed Wing-T around his strengths and weaknesses. They have no such luxury this season; Butler has departed, and four players with differing abilities are vying to replace him.

The offensive line had to be rebuilt last year and Rogerson must do it all over again this fall. The difference, he says, is that this time he will have to count more on green underclassmen, rather than the veteran reserves on the 1985 varsity roster.

A year ago the Tigers had solid senior strength up the middle on defense with co-captain Jim Petrucci at nose guard, co-captain Anthony DiTomasso and Lorne Keller at linebacker and Jim Anderson at free safety. They don't have that quality returning this time.

So the overall ability level of the squad is less than last year. Just seven starters, three on offense and four on defense, leave Rogerson with 15 positions to fill. There might be some help from a freshman team that won only once in six starts.

A difficult season lies ahead. Princeton will be hard pressed to defeat any of its three non-league opponents — Northwestern, at home, or Lehigh and William & Mary on the road. Within the league, Rogerson feels Cornell, Brown, Penn and Yale will have the best shot at the title.

Reluctant, as any head coach is, to be specific about his team's chances, Rogerson comments, "We'll be a very competitive team in the league, and our ability to win some big games last year will help us this season."

He is less guarded about his players, and his optimism abounds despite those key personnel losses. "The attitude of our players has really gotten me excited about this fall," he says. "We're most fortunate to have two exceptional co-captains. They, along with the rest of the seniors, are going to take up the leadership responsibilities. The overriding aspect of my enthusiasm is the wonderful attitude of our players."

Every coach likes to talk about his team's attitude at the beginning of a new season; last year Rogerson's players maintained it through a 10-game schedule, and it made the difference.

Following is a rundown on the personnel Rogerson will be evaluating this fall.

Quarterback: Butler stepped into the starting role here in his second game as a sophomore, and three seasons later he had established new Princeton records in nearly every passing category. His four potential

Monday with the first of two weeks of two-a-day workouts, so the time is ripe to review past and present for the Tigers and look ahead to the battles to be fought this fall.

Getting back to Rogerson, 20 months after he was hired to breathe new life into Princeton football, he is still smiling. He's still smiling because a positive, upbeat attitude is the only one Rogerson knows, and he knows it works.

He came to town with it in December, 1984, and by the following September his enthusiasm had rubbed off on a team that had suffered through three consecutive losing seasons. His players caught the spirit and ran with it through a memorable campaign. By the end of the final game in November, alumni and fans were wearing broad smiles as well.

The Orange and Black finished with an overall record of 5-5, the best since 1981. And take away three losses, two of them by less than a touchdown to three tough non-league foes, and you're left with a 5-2 Ivy mark.

That was good enough for a second-place finish behind

Here's an amazing college football fact ... In the last 97 YEARS Notre Dame has had only 6 losing seasons ... The only seasons when Notre Dame lost more games than they won, from 1889 through 1985, were in 1933, 1956, 1960, 1963, 1981 and 1985.

Did you know that 2 of the biggest upsets in college football history, based on predicted points, happened last year ... Oregon State, a 38-point underdog, beat Washington 21-20 on October 19, and Texas-El Paso, a 36-point underdog, beat Brigham Young 23-16 on Oct. 26.

ONE STRIKE AND YOU ARE OUT. That's not a new baseball rule. That's the way disaster plays the game. Is your house, car, life and income insured for a disaster?

Here's an unusual oddity that happened once in big league baseball ... The SAME pitcher led the National League in wins AND in losses the SAME year! ... In 1979, pitcher Phil Niekro won 21 games, which were the most by any pitcher in the league — but he also lost 20 games that year to lead the league in most losses ... That was the first time that ever happened in major league baseball.

successors have just five completions in 11 attempts among them in varsity competition.

The wide-open battle for the spot will be waged among three seniors and a promising sophomore. Rogerson will be trying to discover who among them combines the best arm, with the fastest legs, and just as important, the biggest heart. Brad Hammond (6-2, 195) was the only other quarterback to see action in 1985. When Butler went down with a knee injury against Columbia, he came on and completed four of eight passes for 41 yards.

Sean Welsh (6-4, 210) had no playing time last year, but was used in two contests as a sophomore in 1984, completing one pass in three attempts for nine yards. He had a strong freshman year, finishing as the team leader in passing and total offense. A third senior Gary Weisglass (6-4, 205), who shared the quarterbacking duties with Welsh on the freshman squad, has seen no varsity action.

The sophomore to watch is Brian Barren (6-0, 178) from Gahanna, Ohio. He has a good arm, decent speed, and plenty of experience with the Wing-T, as a high school player. He had 32 completions in 71 attempts for 594 yards on the freshman team.

"He caught my attention on our one day of spring practice," Rogerson admits. Unless one of the three seniors wins the job hands down, Rogerson may look to the future and go with Barren.

And Rogerson emphasizes that he needs to make the quarterback decision as soon as possible in order to begin planning his offense to fit his quarterback's abilities. He hopes to have this decision made at the latest by the Springfield scrimmage on Saturday, September 13, a week before the season begins.

The player Rogerson would choose to take Butler's place will not be eligible. At this writing, Jason Garrett, son of ex-Columbia football coach Jim Garrett, will be sitting out another season. Princeton's pleas to the NCAA have fallen on deaf ears.

Jason, who had an outstanding freshman year at Princeton, completing 64 passes in 116 attempts for 996 yards, transferred to Columbia last year to play for his father. He and his brother, Judd, a fine running back prospect, are expected to be back at Princeton this fall, and Rogerson hopes to have them at least practicing with the team.

Running Back: This position seemed pretty well set at one point, but an automobile accident in mid-June has put junior halfback Steve Foster on the sidelines for the entire '86 season. If his back injury heals well enough, he may be back next year.

That leaves senior Craig Fitchett (6-2, 202) as the lone returning starter. He enjoyed a fine season, rushing for 229 yards in 63 attempts, and catching 21 passes for 192 yards. A host of other players will vie for playing time at halfback.

Fullback Butch Climmons, last year's leading rusher with 449 yards in 118 attempts, has departed, and his replacement is expected to be fireplug Jerry Santillo (5-9, 208). He showed some good moves as a junior, getting increased playing time as the year progressed. He finished with 93 yards rushing in 23 attempts. Another senior Dave Farina (5-10, 200), will probably back-up Santillo at fullback.

Receiver: There's good news here, with the word that the speedy Mark Dexter, who took a year off from school, will be back. Dexter formed an outstanding receiving tandem with Derek Graham in 1984, catching 30 passes for 459 yards. His totals were far short of Graham's that year, but more than any receiver's last fall.

Dexter's return will help ease the loss of Tom Urquhart and Ted Fire. Urquhart, of course, is best remembered for his game-winning free kick return in Cambridge last October that sealed the victory over Harvard.

The other wideout spot should go to junior Jeff Baker (6-1, 180), who had some bright moments in his first season of varsity play, catching four passes for 94 yards. Nick Jachim (5-10, 168), Bill Adams (6-5, 194) and Paul DeMuro (6-3, 191) are top candidates for reserve duty.

The tight end position is the most solid on the field, with two veteran upperclassmen ready to play, and a promising sophomore right on their heels. Junior Doug Struckman (6-3, 210) and senior Mike Behrman (6-4, 222) split the duties a year ago, and both had impressive seasons. Struckman caught 13 passes for 191 yards and one touchdown; Behrman snagged 12 for 148 yards and two TDs. Both also proved themselves fine blockers in Princeton's Wing-T offensive scheme.

They'll be pushed by first-year man Mark Rockefeller (6-3, 208), son of Margaretta (Happy) Rockefeller and the late Nelson A. Rockefeller. The winner of the Lourie Award for excellence as a member of the freshman team, his best game came against Columbia when he caught three passes for 83 yards.

Offensive Line: Rogerson coaches the offensive line, and he has another major rebuilding job ahead with four of five starters gone from his blocking unit. Two of those, Eric Dreiband and Jay Fitzgibbons were second team all-Ivy selections at tackle and guard, respectively.

This year the lone starter returning is senior guard Mike Harter (6-1, 250). He played a full season last year as a junior, and should be able to open some holes up the middle. Junior guard Mark Seilhamer (6-2, 239) though not a starter a year ago, had plenty of playing time and may step in at the other starting guard spot.

Josh Chambers (6-1, 245), a junior, is expected to challenge for time at guard as well. Steve Kern got the majority of playing time at center last year, but senior Gerry Courier (6-0, 240) started several games for the Tigers and proved himself a capable performer. He'll be the trigger man for the Princeton offense this season.

At tackle, Dreiband and Mike Aladich are not going to be easy to replace. First in line to try are junior Andy Johanni (6-3, 257) and senior Jim Barnds (6-3, 235).

Pre-season is also a time to switch players around, and Rogerson and his staff may well move players listed as defensive linemen over to the offense.

Tournament director Len Nemeroff reported that tournament passes will be available on Friday for $7 for the three-day event at the Hyatt Regency Hotel on Route 1. The passes, which will cost $4 if purchased daily, will also be available Saturday through Monday at the Mercer County skating rink or at the concession stand next to the main field.

Five For Five. In capturing this year's USSSA title, Ficarro's had to do it the hard way: emerging from the losers' bracket and winning five consecutive games in a single day. The team had not lost a game in the 1983-84-85 tournaments.

Going into the Eastern World Tournament, Ficarro's has won 22 of the last 24 it has played at Mercer Park this season. The team's overall record is 40-13 and in five tournaments it has finished first once, second twice and third twice.

The team's batting average this year is .395. Its leading hitters are Grace Durland (.554), Dee Discavage (.453), Donna Nicholson (.431), Clare Baxter (.426) and Doreen Ragazzo (.407).

Janet Swick led the team in extra base hits (17) while Cindy Lombardo and Swick led in home runs with four each. Debbie Smyth with ten had the most triples and Swick the most doubles with six.

The RBI leaders were Durland and Baxter (41 each) while Swick scored the most runs (47). Baxter compiled a 39-13 record on the mound.

For the tournament, the Ficarro infield will consist of Discavage at first, Ragazzo at second, Swick at short and Vertucci at third. Lombardo will be in left field, Smyth in left center, Dot Drumpfer in right center and Durland in right. Nicholson will be behind the plate and Andrea Loretangeli will be the extra hitter. Sandi Hibbs is the team's leading pinch hitter with a .414 average.

Other players on the squad who have performed all season include Diane Kelly, Cheryl Silva, Beth Autl, Melanie Nosal, Dee Dailey and Louann Slocum-Robidoux.

The team's first-year manager is Bob Smyth, assisted by Ron Hibbs and coach Skip Venis. Mary Farrell is scorekeeper.

In summing up the season, Smyth observed, "The single most important accomplishment of this year's team, was that it played at the highest levels of competition in New Jersey, achieved the most success of any team in the state — and had a lot of fun doing it."

"...softball is a recreational activity and its participants are supposed to enjoy themselves. We were able to do that without losing our competitive edge."

Ficarro's/IPC Is Third In Coed Softball Tourney

Two Princeton-based teams, the Steve Ficarro's Auto Body women's softball team, winner of the Mercer County women's "A" League and United States Slo-pitch Softball Association New Jersey State Class "B" champion the past four years, and the IPC men's softball team, runners-up in the Mercer County International League's "B" Division, combined for an entry into the USSSA New Jersey State Coed tournament held August 16-17 at Mercer County Park. Bob Smyth, manager of the Ficarro's women's team and member of the IPC team, served as manager of the club.

The team, which was making its debut in coed play, finished third in the double elimination tournament and featured several husband-and-wife combinations: Beth and Bill Ault, Dee and Joe Discavage, Sandi and Rob Hibbs, and Debbie and Bob Smyth. Rounding out the squad were Grace Durland, Janet Swick, Dee Vertucci,

Freshman Football Meeting

A meeting for all Princeton High School freshman football candidates will be held Tuesday morning at 8:30 in the high school weight room.

First-year football coach Kurt Vollherbst announced that any freshman interested in playing football should attend.

Mike Fitzpatrick, Gib Johnson, Bob Ogradnick, and John Wheeler.

In its first game, Ficarro's/IPC defeated Lakewood Auto Supply, 5-3, behind the pitching of Beth Ault. With the score tied at 2-2, going into the top of the seventh inning, consecutive hits by Rob Hibbs, Grace Durland, Bill Ault, and a 2-RBI single from Joe Discavage produced the winning runs. In its second game, a 4-2 win over Ethicon, from Hampton, Ficarro's/IPC again had to come from behind. Trailing 2-0, going into the top of the sixth, the team scored four runs on hits by Mike Fitzpatrick, Debbie Smyth, Rob Hibbs, and Grace Durland. Joe Discavage added two hits, and Mike Fitzpatrick was the winning pitcher.

The win put Ficarro's/IPC into the winners' bracket finalists where it faced Pfisto's Sports from Perth Amboy. Ficarro's/IPC got on the scoreboard first with two runs in the top of the first inning, as Grace Durland and Bill Ault were driven in by John Wheeler. Pfisto's evened the Kane left the next day for Franklin and Marshall College where he is a senior and Kahny got ready to return to the Hun School where he is head basketball coach. score in the bottom of the fourth inning and with two out in the last of the seventh inning, pushed across the winning run to make the final score 3-2.

The loss sent Ficarro's/IPC into the loser's bracket final against Hamilton Township's Grove Plumbing. Grove drew first blood in the top of the first inning but defense prevailed, and there was no score again until the bottom of the fourth when Bill Ault hit a towering triple to the left field wall and was driven in on a Dee Discavage sacrifice fly. The next several innings developed into a pitchers' duel between Ficarro's/IPC's Mike Fitzpatrick and Grove's Cathy Elbersen, as the game went into extra innings, before Grove broke it open in the top of the ninth with six runs on six hits, to 7-1. Grove moved on to meet Pisto's for the title and was defeated, 13-3.

Ficarro's/IPC's leading hitters in the tournament were Joe Discavage (.625), Mike Fitzpatrick (.429), Grace Durland and Bill Ault (both .417), and Debbie Smyth (.385). With its third place finish, Ficarro's/IPC has earned a berth in the USSSA National Coed tournament to be held September 27-28 at Mercer County Park.

The Princeton Midget Football League will hold its registration for the new season on Wednesday and Thursday, September 10-11, from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the Valley Road School gymnasium.

All boys between 9 and 13 are eligible; high school students and those reaching the age of 14 before December 31 are not. The registration fee is $10.

For additional information about the league, call the Princeton Recreation Department, 921-9480, or Jack Petrone, 890-2890.

games (Hinkson's won the opener, 4-2, and Andy's the second, 9-5), the two finalists were scoreless in the first three innings of the championship game. In the fourth, Andy's broke through by scoring two runs on consecutive singles by Alex Versfeld, Kevin Phox, Scott Porreca and Jack Petrone. The victors' final run came an inning later, when Pat Kahny's sacrifice fly plated Jason Petrone.

Hinkson's, the regular-season champions, could muster only six hits off Andy hurler Jeff Grover. From the second inning through the sixth, the veteran pitcher retired 12 out of 13 Hinkson batters, including three perfect innings.

"We managed to salvage something out of the season," observed Andy's player-manager Jeff Petrone, one of five Petrone brothers on the team. Last year, Andy's Tavern lost the championship playoff series in two games to rival Conte-Staats.

The nucleus of the Andy's Tavern team, Petrone noted, has won the playoff championship three out of the past four years and has also claimed the regular-season crown three times in the last four seasons.

"So history speaks for itself," said Petrone. "Whenever there is a big game, Andy's has — and will — win the big one."

"Race For Health" Set For 97 New Jersey Towns

The 4th annual UMDNJ-Bicycle Race for Health, a three-day stage race, beginning in High Point State Park and ending in Atlantic City, will be held September 11-13.

Approximately 120 trained riders will compete in teams of four in the race, which is certified by the United States Cycling Federation. Among them will be Princeton resident Matt Willis, winner of last year's Trenton second stage.

Fifteen miles longer than last year, the race will take its riders, traveling at an average speed of 25 to 32 miles an hour, through 97 towns and 10 counties. It is the longest bicycle race in New Jersey and the only major team stage race in the state.

The Race for Health was first organized by the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (UMDNJ). Sponsoring the event this year with UMDNJ are Blue Cross and Blue Shield of N.J.; the N.J. State Department of Health; the Governor's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports; the N.J. Dept. of Commerce and Economic Development, Division of Travel and Tourism; in cooperation with the U.S. Cycling Federation and Garden State Games.

"This event is more than just a bicycle race," says Dr. Stanley S. Bergen Jr., UMDNJ president. "It's a vehicle for carrying the message of good health ... we want New Jersey residents to realize their health potential. We urge communities to ... organize community events in connection with the race such as health screenings."

Stage I of the Race for Health will begin September 11 at 10 a.m. with a 59-mile race from High Point to Florham Park, followed by another 21-mile ride to Newark.

On Friday, Stage II's events begin with a men's and women's 15-mile criterium on a half-mile course in Newark's Washington Park. In the afternoon, the race participants will bike 54 miles from Newark to the State House in Trenton, arriving in time for race ceremonies at 3.

On the third and final day of the race, Stage III will take the racers from Quaker Bridge Mall to the boardwalk in Atlantic City, 90 miles distant.

Three major health fairs will be held along the race route in Newark, Quaker Bridge Mall and Atlantic City to underline the connection between bicycle riding and physical fitness.

On Saturday, September 13, a health exposition will be held at Quaker Bridge Mall from 10 to 3.

There will be health exhibits by the American Lung Association, the American Cancer Society and other health agencies. Exhibitions will be offered for different age groups, including dance and exercise, a teenage jazz group, and children's gymnastics. In addition, there will be demonstrations of heart rate tests and various sporting equipment.
